

SAFE LAUNCHES ONLINE LECTURES WITH PROSECUTOR'S TOOLKIT

JERSEY CITY, MARCH 21, 2005—SAFE is proud to announce a new addition to its continually evolving online resources: Lectures Online. Using simple web technology, SAFE is now able to deliver worldwide online lectures and seminars to its ever-growing audience. Each lecture is available for download, free of charge.

The current Lecture Online: The Prosecutor's Toolkit, was created by SAFE member, Ricardo A. St. Hilaire. The lecture discusses the laws potentially available to federal and state prosecuting attorneys who are pursuing, or would like to pursue, international cultural property crime cases. Anyone interested in cultural protection should view this lecture. St. Hilaire is already at work on the upcoming: The Prosecutor's Toolkit II: Combating Domestic Cultural Property Crime.

St. Hilaire, a prosecuting attorney from New Hampshire, also founded ARCHER (the Account for Recovery of Cultural Heritage) to promote projects dedicated to the discovery, preservation and protection of cultural resources. He is also leading an effort to create administrative regulations for the NH Division of Historical Resources, the agency responsible for the stewardship of that state's cultural property.

SAFE looks forward to continuing to bring forth quality online lectures that are both topical and current with our mission. Large screen versions are available for purchase via DVD.
